Merchant Services Helps Young Boy's Wish for Adventure Come to Life!

Jordan is a vivacious young boy who is full of life. While receiving his chemotherapy treatments, Jordan would watch his favorite television shows and he would see commercials for an amazing place called the Atlantis Resort in the Bahamas. He saw that people could swim with dolphins, watch a giant TV in their hotel room, eat lots of good food, and ride long, twisty water slides. So when his wish granters asked Jordan what he most wanted to do, he knew he wanted to go with his family to Atlantis!

When he arrived at the resort, he was speechless. It was bigger and more beautiful than he had imagined. Jordan planned out his adventures. He wanted to make sure he did every activity that he had seen in the Atlantis commercials and he enjoyed swimming in the ocean, sliding down the pool slides and playing video games all night. He had a wonderful time exploring and feeling like a regular kid again.

Jordan's parents said the entire family had a fabulous time. The trip was beyond their wildest expectations and these are memories that they will cherish forever thanks to the power of a wish.

"We are thrilled to be able to help with providing an unforgettable experience like this for Jordan and his family," noted Vice President of Merchant Services Nathan Jurczyk. "Opportunities to give back to the community and help children like Jordan enjoy precious time with their families during these challenging times are something that bring each and every member of our team great joy."
